 T. B. Folliott at Sandon. Woodworth has not opened up in law business yet. Folliott is still working at carpenter work. Mr.
 Stovel is much impressed with the Kootenay night's train and will take the services in All Saints church next Sunday morning and the guest of G. W. R. Almona.

PLAINDEALER, South Edmonton: The
 "hayseed" ball given by Robert McKernan
 in Parli's hall on Tuesday night, was one of the immense things of the season. About 175 people were present from town and country. Everybody was characterized by "hayseed" by his long and bushy hair.
 The dancing was kept up till 5 o'clock
 the next morning.
THE La Cigale Comedy Co. rendered
 "The Wedding March" on Monday evening. Owing to the fact that this play was produced much sooner than the company intended on account of Mr. de Journal leaving Edmonton and thereby leaving scarcely any time for advertising, there was not such a large attendance as might be expected. "The Wedding March" is a very laughable farce from beginning to end.
 The different characters of the play were well presented considering the very short time they had in getting up their respective parts, not having one full rehearsal.
 The play was again produced on Wednesday evening to a very small house.

J. A. McGILLIVRAY, ex-M. P., supreme secretary of the Independent Order of Foresters, arrived on last Thursday's train.
 He was met at the station by the representatives of Court Edmonton. Mr. McGillivray was elected for North Ontario in the fall of 1895 and took part in the famous last session of the late government as a supporter but opposing the remedial bill. He was re-elected at the last general elections by a small majority. He sat during part of the late session, leaving partly to certain irregularities connected with his election and partly to pressure brought to bear by the Foresters order who wished to retain his services as secretary. He resigned and is now devoting the whole of his attention to the I. O. F. with which he has been connected as one of its chief pillars ever since its organization on its present basis sixteen years ago. There is no doubt that the phenomenal success of this order in Canada is due to the abilities and exertions of its supreme secretary. Mr. McGillivray left on Friday's train.

THE students attending the Normal school in Owen Sound on Tuesday evening in their class room for the purpose of organizing a literary society, and after adopting a constitution, the following officers were elected: honorary president, Inspector J. A.
 Calder; president, J. W. Dodds; vice-president, Miss Montgomery; secretary, treasurer, Jas. Skinner. The society will meet every Tuesday evening at four o'clock in their class room. The meetings are free to all and the society will be pleased to have outsiders become members and take part in the debates. The following programme was rendered after the organization:
 address, Mr. Calder; quartette, Misses Thorpe, Montgomery, Messrs. Howey and Stewart; debate: "Resolved that it is not in the best interests of humanity for women to enter the professions." Affirmative, J.
 Skinner; Dadd; negative, Howey, Stewart;
 club-swinging, Miss Montgomery, accompanied on the piano by Miss Thorpe. The judges on the debate were Misses Thorpe and Young and Mr. Calder, who decided to leave the decision of the debate to a vote of the society, and was given in favor of the negative. The meeting was closed by singing God save the Queen.

GOLD MEDAL CONTEST.
 The gold medal contest in South Edmonton Tuesday evening was very successful. Parrish's Hall was filled to the door. The chair was occupied by Mrs. Richards, past select councillor of the Royal Templars of Temperance, under whose auspices the contest was given. During the contest
 the following programme was rendered:
 Opening chorus, "Sound the Jubilee,"

 Beals, Miss Samis, Messrs. Beals and Vanbuskirk; duet, "Cantilena," Mrs.
 Hockley and Miss Trimble; solo, "The Emigrant's Lament," Fred Richards;

 number of selections. After the programme was rendered the judges of the contest, D. S. McKenize, A. C.
 Rutherford and Inspector Calder, gave their decision in favor of Bulah Heath,
 who was awarded the gold medal.
 The contestants were: South Ed-
 monston—Gracie Ritchie, Omanda
 Moan, Maggie Steves, Bulah Heath.
 Edmonton—Edith Bellamy, Maud
 Lauder, Annie Evans. The entertainment was brought to a close by the band playing God Save the Queen.

POLICE DISCIPLINE (I)

An Ottawa telegram of Jan. 19th, to the Manitoba Free Press says: "Northwest journals—The Calgary Herald in particular—have been expressing unbounded indignation at the conduct of Commissioner Lawrence W. Herchmer in regard to the Calgary police investigation. They say his conduct was brutish, and kick against men being transferred. Inquiry by a Free Press correspondent in the highest quarter elicits the information that the steps were only taken to maintain discipline, which had fallen too low. In Sergeant Perry's case the investigation was made by a superintendent and not by the commissioner, and the transfer of men seems about the only way the present order of things can be reversed. There are too many married men living out of barracks at Calgary and some have been transferred."

There is one part of the information conveyed by this telegram that is eminently satisfactory. It gives the people of the Northwest, and particularly the members of the police force, to clearly understand where they are at—which is no where, as far as securing right or justice at the hands of the commissioner are concerned. Evidently the Ottawa authorities have reached the sage conclusion that commissioner Herchmer's administration of the Northwest mounted police has been such a howling success that he is to be left alone to wreak vengeance on whomsoever he pleases,—under the plea of maintenance of discipline. The plea is sound if it applies. Commissioner Herchmer has been in charge of the force for about 10 years. He has been allowed his own way in everything. The Calgary post is on the main line of the C. P. R. It is only 36 hours run from Regina. It is the point through which the commanding and inspecting officers must pass in going south to MacLeod, north to Edmonton, or west to Banff. And yet it appears that discipline had fallen so low at this post that government money was stolen and it becomes necessary to enforce unheard of penalties for the most trifling and common offences and to punish by irritating and inconvenient transfers the non-commissioned and men against whom nothing had been ever alleged much less charged in order to restore discipline. If the discipline has fallen so low in such a post as to make such measures necessary, the public will agree that the first step towards securing a more rigid discipline would be to replace the commanding officer under whose nose practically such injurious laxity had perverted by some one who understood his business and attended to it. The BULLETIN takes this position that if the circumstances justified the punishments and removals that have taken place the country cannot afford to longer retain the services of the commissioner whom the country pays to keep up the discipline and efficiency of the force and not to make semi-occasional onslaughts on its members who may happen to have incurred his displeasure. If the circumstances are not such as to warrant the extraordinary action that has been taken then the country has no further use for an officer, who, by his tyrannical vagaries paralyzes self-respect and therefore efficiency in the men who stand in danger from him. This Calgary matter has gone too far to be dismissed with the lying insinuation conveyed in the telegram quoted.

No one questions the right of the commissioner to transfer officers or men as required, and no one wishes to prevent adequate punishment for breaches of discipline. But in this case punishments have been inflicted out of all proportion to the offences proven and transfers have been made as a means of punishment when no offence was charged. It is amply evident throughout the case that the commissioner hopes by the severity of his action towards the officers and men of the post to draw public attention away from his own responsibility and that he will stop at nothing in the way of slanderous insinuations, or tyrannical action to attain that end.

It seems from the telegram quoted that there were too many married men in the Calgary division and that is why some of them have been transferred. The hardship that this is to the non-commissioned officer or man affected, can not be realized by civilians outside the force. Such transfers have repeatedly been made out of pure devilishness in the post, with no more consideration for the men or women and children concerned than if they were dogs. This has always been a favorite punishment with their commissioner when he could not do anything else, and he has used it in the Calgary case to the utmost limit—and as the telegram intimates sneeringly brags about it.

The commissioner is stronger in his antipathies than in anything else. The man who gets married or who votes grit are equally condemned in his eyes. There is only one other offence approaching either of these in enormity and that is to have been long enough in the force to come nearly drawing a pension. Unfortunately for the men of the Calgary division several of them are married, and a large number of them voted liberal at the recent election, in the hope that if a new government got into power a better administration of police as well as others affairs would result. The commissioner appreciates the delicate compliment paid himself by this action and for the past couple of months has been busily evening up with them for it. This was the real laxness of discipline prevailing at Calgary as compared with other posts for which it has become necessary to punish and disperse the men, and disgrace the commanding officer. It appears that although Supt. Howe voted right himself, he did not use the pressure upon the men necessary to compel them to do the same. Consequently as is currently reported he is ordered to repay money, which he is not even accused of stealing or of being in any way connected with its being stolen. While the BULLETIN has no desire to relieve Supt. Howe from any responsibility attaching to his position, it has no hesitation in saying that the demand now said to have been made upon him is unheard of in civil or military life in any part of the Queen's dominions, and is a fair sample of the findings of this disciplinarian who is now repairing as fast as possible the political injury done his former masters by turning public opinion as strongly as possible against their successors.

A sample of the strict discipline of the force appeared at Fort Saskatchewan the other day by certain members taking part in a bar room fight. Had the discipline been as strict as the commissioner would like to make it appear to be this would not have taken place. But the discipline was all right at Fort Saskatchewan on election day, as it was all wrong at Calgary, hence the difference in the ways in which the several cases were dealt with. The BULLETIN does not wish to introduce politics into the consideration of questions connected with the police, and it just as strongly objects to their being introduced by Commissioner Herchmer or any of his officers punishing men for having exercised their proper right to vote at the late elections.

GENERAL ELECTIONS POSSIBLE

The Toronto Globe speaking of the expected mandamus against the Manitoba school settlement says: "The logical result of the attitude of the archbishop and those whom he represents, is that the government is to be attacked for refusing to interfere in the local affairs of Manitoba, that the clerical ban is to be placed on every Catholic member of parliament who refuses in this case to follow the lead of the church, and that wherever an election occurs similar pressure is to be brought to bear upon Catholic electors. So far there are symptoms of a revolt against the interference of the church with the political liberty and civil rights of the electors, but the Catholic church touches the life of its people at many points and if it choose to abuse its power it may succeed in enforcing sullen and reluctant obedience to its commands. From a political point of view the quarter and a petty desire to embarrass the government in another result might be such as to necessitate another appeal to the country and that appeal will be made without flinching and the people will be asked to decide by their ballots whether the state affairs or whether the bishops of Quebec shall be allowed to exercise authority not only in their own province but from the Red river to British Columbia.

NEW ZEALAND RAILWAY.

A New Zealand correspondent of the Victoria, British Columbia, Province says:

The British Columbia railway policy is one which the people of this province will regret only once, and that is forever. We in New Zealand travelled the same road, and know how utterly bad it is. The New Zealand government have now acquired—though at great cost—all the private railways with one exception, and it is safe to say that never again will a railroad concession be granted to a private corporation. Railroad grants mean locking up state lands, blocking settlement, blackmailing intending settlers by high prices for land and high railway tariffs, and the sacrifice of the public interest to the private welfare of a corporation. In New Zealand the government build their own railways on the co-operative system, that is the workmen form co-operative parties, and take a block of work at a price fixed by the government, which give the standard wage for an eight-hours day to a fair workman. The public works are thus well and honestly carried out. The public lands are offered directly to settlers on the best terms possible. For instance, a settler can take up land by paying rent which represents interest at four per cent on the expenditure incurred by the government in acquiring the land (by valuation or arbitration) from the natives and in laying down roads. Settlement thus goes ahead. The railway rates are being steadily reduced as traffic increases, till, during last year, important reductions were made on three different occasions. Other reductions are contemplated, the public being given the benefit of all profits over actual expenses and interest on cost of construction. Then the trains are run as far as possible to suit the convenience of the people using them. Compare this with the state of things ruling on this continent where there is a continual warfare between the farmers and the railroad corporations. With the state owning the railways the country is also free from the corrupting influence of great railroad corporations that seek to divert the reins of government in their own direction. Why should not your own government build and run the proposed railway between the coast and Kootenay? If the state built that line it could run it in the interest of the people of British Columbia, and could thus successfully compete against any opposition from the United States side. The land along the line could also be thrown open by the state on the best terms to induce settlement.

INDIAN EDUCATION.

Correspondence.

I have seen most of the industrial schools in the Territories; have given the matter considerable attention and for years have watched through the United States Indian reports, the progress of Indian education under their department of Indian affairs.

Our general system of Indian control is largely copied from the United States; over there it is necessary to have an extraordinary large staff of reservation and other officials, required to control the more warlike and unsettled sentiment of the Indians of the United States. It may be suggested that we should have adopted one system to the necessary requirements of our own local situation, and the number of officials proportioned to the more peaceable disposition of our own Canadian Indians.

In regard to Indian education the late government has established large schools for the industrial training of Indian children; the idea itself cannot be wholly condemned, but in the elaboration of the idea, the general consensus of opinion is, that the very large expenditure entailed is out of all proportion to the fractional results produced by this system of education.

I think in the first place all Indian schools should be placed entirely under government control, according to the constitutional principle, that all government expenditure should be directly under government control.

The dual control, religious and government, has been tried in the United States Indian schools, the arrangement was naturally unsatisfactory; and they are now bringing all their schools again under definite government control.

It is generally stated that our Indian schools have not been successful in showing sufficient results for the large expenditure, and the reason is evident; the conditions of life in those schools generally are purely artificial and they treat the pupils more like college students, in fact all the large industrial schools as organized at present must be an expensive failure wanting in practical results.

About three-fourths of the trade instruction in these schools could be dispensed with; each school has a carpenter, shoemaker, blacksmith, &c., with the exception perhaps of the carpenter, most of the other instructors are quite unnecessary; where is the opening for the pupils if they do learn the trades? The school should be put more on the basis of a farm where the pupils could be regularly taught how to work on a farm; a half day could be devoted to class room work. What they require is more practical education; farming must for a long time be the main industry of the Northwest, and it seems desirable to adapt our institutions to the necessary requirements of the Northwest situation.

It seems to me doubtful if these large schools will ever fill the bill, it costs too much to run them. I think a less elaborate and more practical system would produce better results; there are agency buildings already favorably situated for all of the reserves, or for groups of reserves; enlarge these buildings gradually, and turn them into boarding schools. The present officials on the reserves, the farm instructor, clerk and farm implement, could be available, they would require in many cases to add a school teacher to the staff, run the school as a farm, keep stock and go in for mixed farming generally. They should in a short time raise all the beef and bacon supplies for their reserve; the girls could be trained in practical household duties and domestic management; a practically managed farm before the Indians would be an object lesson of great practical educational value; the Indians are quick at observing, at present they are rarely allowed to leave their reserves; they see very little farming outside their reserves; and in some cases unfortunately the farm instructor can scarcely be said to have been appointed for their knowledge of farming; many of the reserves have steam mills, creameries could be easily established at those places and the Indians gradually initiated into dairying, and other productive forms of industry that would in course of time make them self-supporting citizens of the country.

These schools if carefully managed should in a short time become really self-supporting; the pupils should just receive a good practical common school education, reading, writing and arithmetic and some idea of accounts.

There is too much government money in our day expended in high school education, in Ontario at present there is a great outcry against government supported higher education; the examinations and the courses of study are steadily pressing forward an ever increasing large number of candidates into the professions, to the detriment of the more practical and certainly not less honorable industrial pursuits.

In the United States where they have a good system of schools they adopt what is called the "outing plan," it could be adopted here with advantage. They hire out the larger pupils with selected farmers for a certain period. There the pupils are brought into contact with the actual conditions of independent farming; no doubt the sparsely settled condition of the Northwest would only admit, under existing conditions, of a comparatively limited adoption of the "outing" system, but there are Indian schools further east, near the centres of large agricultural population where the pupils could be drafted, removed from the surroundings of their own reserve boarding school and receive on farms under favorable conditions a further practical training in the duties of life.

The requirements of the different sections of the Northwest would of course have to be considered and the system modified more or less to suit different localities.

EXPERIMENTAL FARM SAMPLE.

During the past nine years, samples of those varieties of grain which have succeeded best on the Experimental farms have been distributed on application in 3 lb. bags to farmers in all parts of the Dominion, free through the mail. The object in view in this distribution has been to add to the productiveness and improve the quality of these important agricultural products throughout the country by placing within reach of every farmer pure seed of the most vigorous and productive sorts. This work has met with much appreciation and a considerable degree of success.

Instructions have been given by the Hon. Minister of Agriculture to make a similar distribution this season. Owing to the very large number of applications now received it is not practicable to send more than one sample to each applicant, but with this limitation it is hoped that the stock available will be sufficient to permit of every farmer who so desires sharing in the benefits of this useful branch of the work of the Experimental farms.

The distribution now in progress consists of some of the most promising sorts of Oats, Barley, Spring Wheat, Pease, Field Corn and Potatoes. Requests for samples may be sent to the Central Experimental farm, Ottawa, at any time before the 1st of March, but after that date the lists will be closed so that the applications then on hand may be filled before seeding begins. All communications can be sent free of postage. It is desirable that each applicant should name the variety which he desires to test, also one or two alternative sorts in case the stock of sort chosen should be exhausted. While no promise can be made that the variety asked for will be sent, the wishes of correspondents will be attended to as far as practicable. The samples of grain will be sent early, but potatoes cannot be distributed until the danger of injury in transit by frost is over.

ONE ROAD ENOUGH.

Rosslander, R. C.: Though the people in the West are almost unanimous in the demand that the Crow's Nest Pass railway shall be built by the government, there are people in the East who think the Canadian Pacific people should be allowed to build the line, advancing in support of their belief the argument that there is room in the pass for the roadbeds of two railways. Admitting for the sake of argument that there is room for two roadbeds in the pass, it is hard to see wherein the necessity for the two lines arises. One line will carry all the traffic for the present, and if all roads have equal privileges over it, the competition in freight rates will be just as keen as if the two lines were built.

The people of the West complain that it keeps them poor paying the dividends on the Canadian Pacific, and it stands to reason that the greater the outlay a road is put to the greater must be its earnings to put it on a paying basis. The only way to increase the earnings in this case would be to increase freight rates, and as usual, the people would have to foot the bill. Dividends on one road are all that the people of the Great West care to struggle with at the present writing.

The plague is said to be spreading at Bombay and the death rate is increasing. France is greatly alarmed at the possibility of the introduction of the bubonic plague.

CALGARY AND EDMONTON.

The following resolution has been prepared by a committee of the council of the Edmonton board of trade to be forwarded to the hon. minister of railways:

The memorial of the Edmonton board of trade humbly sheweth:

1 That the charter of the Calgary and Edmonton railway company will shortly expire by lapse of time, and they have given notice of their intention to apply to Parliament at its next session for an extension of time.

2 That the company's charter provided that they should build to a point "at or near" Edmonton, which was named as the objective point in consequence of its being the business centre of Northern Alberta and the distributing point of supplies for the great Northern fur country.

3 That at the date of the granting of the charter the whole settlement to be served and the business to be reached lay North of Saskatchewan river: it was therefore the natural expectation of the people that the government would require the company to place their terminus on the north side of the river, but the company were allowed to take advantage of the vagueness of the terms of the charter by stopping on the south side of the river.

4 That this action of the company operated and continues to operate most prejudicially and unjustly against the population entitled to the first consideration.

5 That this government has through the Honorable the Minister of Public Works definitely promised large assistance to the construction of a combined railway and traffic bridge across the river at Edmonton during the present session.

6 Your memorialists therefore pray that the just interests of the people North of the Saskatchewan river be now protected by the government by refusing any extension of time to the Calgary and Edmonton railway company except they bind themselves with the least possible delay to extend their line to and establish a properly equipped station in the Town of Edmonton: and seeing the crying need of competition which will reduce freight and passenger rates your memorialists further pray that the government impose the further condition that the company forthwith extend their line southerly to the international boundary so as to make connection with the railway system of the United States.

Signed on behalf of the Edmonton Board of Trade.

Geo. Kirkpatrick, president.
Isaac Cowie, Secretary.

UNITED STATES TARIFF.

Toronto Telegram: "The next Republican tariff will be a mere matter of bargain and sale. The dominant party has sold the use of the nation's taxing power to the interests which equipped it with campaign funds. After the fourth of March that taxing power will be used to enrich private individuals, and Mr. Fielding to the contrary notwithstanding, Canada has little to hope for from a tariff made on those lines."

MR. SMART AT WORK.

Toronto Star: J. A. Smart, who was spoken of recently as coming to Ottawa in connection with a position in the interior department, is now engaged by Mr. Sifton in looking into the workings of the agencies of the department in Manitoba and the Northwest. Mr. Smart will pay a visit to Ottawa shortly.

MADAME ALBANI AND MISS BEVERLEY ROBINSON.

Toronto Evening News, Jan. 26th.
The people of Canada are interested in the association of Miss Beverley Robinson, of Toronto, daughter of the late Lieut. Governor of the province, with Madame Albani in her present season's tour. It is pleasing from a Canadian standpoint to note the popularity and success that have come to these two Canadian artists. At all points, commencing with Halifax and touching the leading cities throughout the Dominion, success has come to the Albani concert of this season, a success that has been accentuated in the satisfaction secured in the use exclusively of the Heintzman & Co. concert grand piano, a Canadian piano that has had honors heaped on it not alone in our own country, but in all parts of the world.

J. T. Blowsy is agent for the above piano for Edmonton and district.

putting it off any longer as there will be nothing gained by it. If you need any goods of any description now is the time to buy them, and the only question to consider is, where are you going to buy them, where can you do the best and be sure of getting the best value for your money...

This is both a wise and important matter to consider whether times are good or bad. In the opinion of a large number of the most prosperous people in the country, who are the shrewdest and most careful of buyers, McDougall's is the place the year round, in any kind of times, and no matter what is the size of your purse. No purchasers too small or none too large. One and all receive the very best of values, and they all come back for more.

The stock is now large and complete in all lines.
